

ONE CENT—LAST EDITION—ONE CENT

RIOT AT WILSON BEACH—GUN PLAY
BOYS LINE UP AGAINST RICH MEN

THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 5, NO. 255

Chicago, Wednesday, July 26, 1916

398

MORALS COURT IS IN PANIC AS HUSBAND REACHES FOR GUN

Detectives Prevent Possible Tragedy in "Eternal Triangle" Case—Husband Accuses Fred D. Farr of Stealing Wife's Love—Farr Boasts of Pull

A husband whose wife had run away with the "other man" paced nervously up and down in the morals court this morning while the law prepared to deal out justice to the erring pair.

When the husband glanced at the wife his eyes were soft and tender; when he looked at the other man his eyes grew cold and hard. Suddenly a woman spectator cried out; two detectives jumped forward just as the husband's hand moved toward his hip. The detectives overpowered the man and drew a 38-caliber revolver from his pocket.

The man was Walter Iring, a wealthy merchant of Louisville, Ky. His wife was arrested at the Alexandria hotel together with Fred D.